The Office of People Analytics (OPA) is indebted to numerous people for their assistance with the 2017 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Reserve Component Members (2017 WGRR), which was conducted on behalf of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (OUSD[P&R]). The survey is conducted under the leadership of Dr. Ashlea Klahr, Director of OPA's Center for Health and Resilience (OPA[H&R]).

Policy officials contributing to the development of this survey include Dr. Nathan Galbreath, Dr. Aubrey Hilbert, Dr. Dina Eliezer, and Mr. Zachary Gitlin (Office of the Under Secretary of Defense, Personnel and Readiness, Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office) and Ms. Shirley Raguindin (Office of the Under Secretary of Defense, Personnel and Readiness, Office of Diversity Management and Equal Opportunity). Service officials contributing to the development and administration of this assessment include Mr. Nathan Evans and Ms. LeWonnie Belcher (Army), Dr. Paul Garst (Department of Navy), Mr. Paul Rosen and Ms. Kimberly Lahm (Navy), Dr. Bradley Brick (Marine Corps), Mr. Nico Corea and Dr. Mark Brown (Air Force), Mr. James Thompson and Mr. Oscar Mariona Acosta (National Guard Bureau), and Mr. Thomas Liuzzo (Military Personnel and Policy [MPP]).

The lead survey design analyst and project manager is Lisa Davis, OPA, supported by Amanda Grifka, Abt Associates. Davis also designed the unique presentation of complex items used in this tabulation volume. Margaret Coffey, OPA, Team Lead of Survey Operations, is responsible for the survey database construction and archiving. The operations analyst team, David Lee, OPA, and William Klauberg, Hunter Peebles, and Kimberly Hylton, Fors Marsh Group, used OPA's Statistical Analysis Macros to calculate the estimates presented in this tabulation volume.

OPA's Statistics and Survey Methods Branch, under the guidance of Mr. David McGrath, Branch Chief, is responsible for all statistical aspects of this survey, including, sampling, weighting, nonresponse bias analysis, and the implementation of statistical hypothesis testing used in the survey program. Eric Falk, Team Lead of the Statistical Methods Branch, was responsible for the sampling for the 2017 WGRR. Ada Harris, OPA, used the OPA Sampling Tool to design the sample. Sue Reinhold, OPA, provided the data processing support. Data Recognition Corporation (DRC) performed data collection and editing.

Mary Padilla, Fors Marsh Group, formatted and assembled this tabulation volume using OPA's Survey Reporting Tool. A team consisting of Lisa Davis, Amanda Grifka, Margaret Coffey, David Lee, William Klauberg, Hunter Peebles, and Kimberly Hylton completed quality control for this tabulation volume.

2017 WORKPLACE AND GENDER RELATIONS SURVEY OF RESERVE COMPONENT MEMBERS: TABULATIONS OF RESPONSES

Introduction to the Survey

The Defense Research, Surveys, and Statistics Center, Office of People Analytics (OPA), conducts surveys to support the personnel information needs of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD[P&R]). These surveys assess the attitudes and opinions of the entire Department of Defense (DoD) community on a wide range of personnel issues. Health and Resilience (H&R) Surveys are in-depth studies of sensitive topics and specialized populations, often requiring use of both paper-and-pen and web-based surveys.

This report contains tabulations of responses from the 2017 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Reserve Component Members (2017 WGRR) conducted from August 16 to October 31, 2017. The 2017 WGRR continues a line of military sexual assault and sexual harassment research begun in 1988. OPA¹ conducted Joint Service surveys of active duty members on gender issues in 1988, 1995, 2002, 2006, 2010, 2012, and 2016. OPA expanded this line of research to the Reserve Components in 2004, 2008, 2012, and 2015 and to the Service Academies in 2005, 2006, 2008, 2010, 2012, 2014, and 2016.

This introduction (1) summarizes the measurement constructs and survey content, (2) defines the total population surveyed and the subgroups used in tabulations of responses, (3) summarizes the survey methodology,² and (4) provides details on how to use the tabulations. The tabulations and a copy of the survey instrument follow this introduction.³

Measurement Constructs

Historically, OPA gender relations surveys have been designed to estimate the perceived experiences of sexual harassment and sexual assault in the Services, and to provide new information on a variety of consequences of these sexual harassment and sexual assault experiences (Bastian, Lancaster, & Reist, 1996). The OPA gender relations surveys captured experiences of sexual assault through its Unwanted Sexual Contact (USC) measure and experiences of sexual harassment, a survey construct derived from the Sexual Experiences Questionnaire⁴ (SEQ; Fitzgerald et al., 1988; Fitzgerald, Gelfand, & Drasgow, 1995). These measures were used on surveys conducted in 2006, 2010, and 2012 of active duty members, in 2008 and 2012 of ² Details on survey methodology are reported in OPA (2017a).

³ Refer to OPA (2017b) to view a version of the survey as it appeared on the web and the paper survey form.

Reserve component members, and in 2005, 2006, 2008, 2010, 2012, 2014, and 2016⁵ of Service Academies.

Per congressional request for an external evaluation, DoD contracted with RAND Corporation in 2014 to conduct the RAND Military Workplace Survey (2014 RMWS), a large-scale survey of active duty and Reserve component members on issues of sexual assault and Military Equal Opportunity (MEO) violations. The measures for sexual assault and MEO violations developed by RAND for use in the 2014 RMWS will be used in Workplace and Gender Relations (WGR) surveys hereafter as described in detail below.

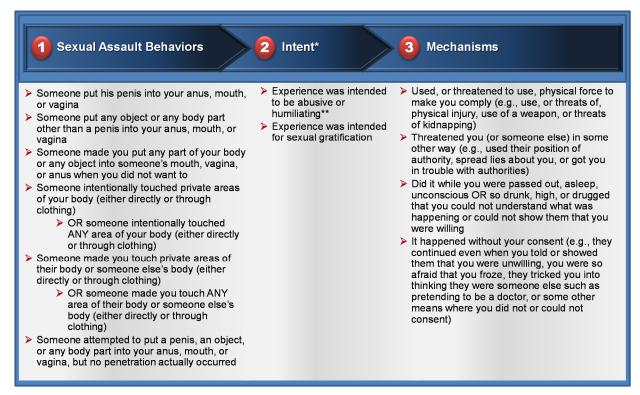

Sexual Assault. In 2014, Senate leadership and an independent, Congressionally-mandated panel of DoD and civilian experts requested that DoD update its survey methodology to be more specific with regard to the types of crimes military members' experience. RAND Corporation developed a new measure of sexual assault that incorporates UCMJ-prohibited behaviors and consent factors to derive prevalence rates of crimes committed against military members (Morral, Gore, & Schell, 2014). This new 96-item measure of sexual assault aligned with the elements of proof required for sexual assault under Article 120, UCMJ, and meets the requirements outlined by Congress and the panel of experts. This measure was approved by the Secretary of Defense and the Service Chiefs as the crime victimization measure of sexual assault for DoD.

To determine the UCMJ-based sexual assault prevalence rate, respondents must experience at least one of the behaviors in line with sexual assault and also two follow-up criteria, as shown in Figure 1. As shown in Figure 1, within the 2017 WGRR, the sexual assault measure is constructed from Q64–Q84, Q86–Q92, and Q94–Q105 and contains three requirements: (1) the member must experience at least one of the six UCMJ-based sexual assault behaviors, (2) at least one UCMJ-based intent behavior where required, 6 and (3) at least one UCMJ-based coercive mechanism that indicated consent was not freely given.

⁶ Intent items were not a requirement for "someone put his penis into your anus, mouth, or vagina."

Sexual Assault Prevalence Rate Metrics

This criteria was maintained between the 2014 RMWS and 2017 WGRR. However, based on respondents concerns and to minimize burden, OPA consolidated the consent factors (coercive mechanisms) for the sexual assault behaviors from eleven consent questions to four questions starting in the 2016 WGRA and applied to the 2017 WGRR. Similar factors were grouped together, thus reducing the number of sexual assault behavior follow-up consent questions while maintaining the range of behaviors captured on the 2014 RMWS. This change to the construct was approved by the DoD Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO). See Figure 2 for the comparison of consent items between the 2014 RMWS and 2017 WGRR.

Survey Content

The content of the 2017 WGRR largely aligns with content of the 2014 RMWS, and contains additional topics of interest that were included on the 2015 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Reserve Component Members (2015 WGRR). The survey is subdivided into the following 11 topic areas:

- 1. Background Information—Reserve component member status,⁷ gender, relationship status, and race/ethnicity.
- Time Reference—Important key events to provide frame of reference for respondents on the time frame of "12 months prior to taking the survey."
- Gender-Related Experiences in the Military—Experiences of MEO violations (sexual harassment and gender discrimination) in the 12 months prior to the survey.

⁷ This item is not included in these tabulations.

⁸ These items are is not included in these tabulations.

- 4. Gender-Related Experiences in the Military With Biggest Effect— Circumstances pertaining to the experience of MEO violation(s) in the past 12 months that had the greatest impact on the respondent, including characteristics of the alleged offender(s); the length of time of the situation; where and when the situation occurred; outcome of the situation; situation as part of hazing and/or bullying; to whom behaviors were discussed/ reported and resulting actions; members' satisfaction with the complaint process and outcomes; and reasons for not reporting to someone in their chain of command with expectation of action or a person who enforces Equal Opportunity regulations.

The 2017 WGRR used both short form (paper-and-pen) and long form (web) surveys. The short form survey content was seen by all respondents (both paper-and-pen and web respondents). Figure 3 specifies the survey content areas included on each form.

The 2017 WGRR web-based survey used "dynamic text" to ask questions regarding the past 12 months. The prior year's date is inserted based on when the respondent started the survey (for example, if the respondent started the survey on August 16, 2017, the prior year date would be August 16, 2016). For ease of reading, the specified time period referenced in these tabulations is "past 12 months."

Population and Reporting Categories

The target population for the 2017 WGRR consisted of members from the Selected Reserve in Reserve Unit, Active Guard/Reserve (AGR/FTS/AR; ¹⁰ Title 10 and 32), or Individual Mobilization Augmentee (IMA), programs from the Army National Guard (ARNG), U.S. Army Reserve (USAR), U.S. Navy Reserve (USNR), U.S. Marine Corps Reserve (USMCR), Air National Guard (ANG), and U.S. Air Force Reserve (USAFR) who were below flag. The sampling frame was developed five months prior to fielding the survey so the sampling population were those that had been in the Selected Reserve for approximately five months. Per DoD regulations, members who had separated from the force after the sample was drawn, but prior to the opening of the survey were excluded from the survey administration process as they are considered "members of the public" and require additional approvals to include in survey efforts.

Survey results are presented for the total DoD population (Army National Guard, U.S. Army Reserve, U.S. Navy Reserve, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard, and Air Force Reserve) and by a variety of reporting categories. To form the reporting categories for the tabulations, respondents are classified primarily by their responses to survey items. If the self-reported data are missing, then the Defense Manpower Data Center's (DMDC) Reserve Component Common Personnel Data System (RCCPDS) is used to impute the subgroup classification at the time of sampling. Survey results are tabulated by Component, paygrade, and gender. Definitions for reporting categories follow:

- Total DoD—This category includes results at the overall level for all DoD Reserve Components.
- Gender—Females and Males are presented separately and broken into the following categories: Reserve component and paygrade. Gender is based on self-report categories. If self-report information is missing, administrative data are used.
- National Guard—The categories include total National Guard, ARNG, and ANG. Respondents are categorized using personnel record data only.
- Reserve—The categories include total Reserve, USAR, USNR, USMC, and USAFR. Respondents are categorized using personnel record data only.

¹⁰ Names for this program vary among Reserve components: AGR/FTS/AR is a combination of Active Guard/Reserve (AGR), Full-Time Supports (FTS), and Active Reserve (AR).

Paygrade—The Enlisted subgroup includes all enlisted paygrades (E1–E9).
The Enlisted subgroup is broken into junior enlisted members (E1–E4; further broken down into E1–E3, and E4) and senior enlisted members (E5–E9). The Officers subgroup is includes all officer paygrades (O1–O6 and WO1–CW5). The officer subgroup is broken into O1–O3 and O4–O6.

Survey Methodology

OPA conducts cross-component surveys that provide DoD with fast, accurate assessments of attitudes and opinions of the entire DoD community using standard scientific methods. Although OPA has used industry standard scientific survey methodology for many years, it is important to continue to clearly describe how scientific practices employed by large survey organizations control for bias and allow for generalizability to populations. Specifically, OPA's survey methodology meets industry standards that are used by government statistical agencies (for example, the Census Bureau and Bureau of Labor Statistics), private survey organizations, and well-known polling organizations. OPA adheres to the survey methodology best practices promoted by the American Association for Public Opinion Research (AAPOR).¹¹ The Government Accountability Office (GAO) reviewed OPA's survey methods in 2010 and determined OPA uses valid scientific survey methods. In 2013, the Joint Program on Survey Methodology (JPSM) confirmed OPA's scientific weighting methods were appropriate, as did RAND Corporation in 2014. The survey procedures were reviewed by a DoD Human Subjects Protection Officer as part of the DoD survey approval and licensing process.

The survey administration for the 2017 WGRR process began on August 15, 2017 with the mailing of an announcement letter to sample members. On August 15, 2017 the survey website opened and on August 17, 2017 e-mail announcements were sent to sample members. The announcement letter and e-mail explained why the survey was being conducted, how the survey information would be used, why participation was important, and opt-out information for those who did not want to participate. Throughout the administration period, up to an additional nine e-mails and one postal reminder were sent to encourage survey participation. The survey was administered via the web (long form of the survey) and paper-and-pen surveys (short form of the survey). If sample members had not responded within the first month of the fielding period, they were sent the paper-and-pen survey on September 14, 2017. Data were collected between August 16 and October 31, 2017.

Single-stage, nonproportional stratified random sampling procedures were used to achieve precise estimates for important reporting categories. In stratified random sampling, all members of a population are categorized into homogeneous groups. For example, members might be grouped by gender and component (all male ARNG personnel in one group, all female ARNG personnel in another). Members are chosen ¹¹ AAPOR's "Best Practices" state that, "virtually all surveys taken seriously by social scientists, policy makers, and the informed media use some form of random or probability sampling, the methods of which are well grounded in statistical theory and the theory of probability" (http://aapor.org/Best_Practices1/4081.htm#best3). OPA has conducted surveys of the military and DoD community using stratified random sampling for over 25 years.

at random within each group. Small groups are oversampled in comparison to their proportion of the population so there will be enough responses from small groups to analyze. The sample consisted of 241,426 individuals drawn from the sample frame constructed from DMDC's RCCPDS. Members of the sample became ineligible if they indicated in the survey or by other contact (for example, e-mails or telephone calls to the data collection contractor) that they were not in a Reserve component as of the first day of the survey, August 16, 2017 (1.6% of sample).¹²

Completed surveys are defined as answering at least one of the survey questions asked of all participants, and 50% of the critical items, which are the sexual assault behaviors: Q64, Q69, Q76, Q83, Q85, Q91, Q93, and Q99. Completed surveys were received from 41,099 eligible respondents and the overall weighted response rate for eligible sample members was 18.5%.¹³

OPA scientifically weighted the 2017 WGRR respondents to be generalizable to the larger population using the generalized boosted modeling (GBM) approach. Within this process, statistical adjustments are made to ensure the sample respondents accurately reflect the characteristics of the population from which it was drawn, and provides more rigorous accounting to reduce non-response bias in estimates. This ensures oversampling within any one subgroup does not result in overrepresentation in the total force estimates. For the 2017 WGRR, OPA mirrored a modeling process used by RAND Corporation in the 2014 RMWS (Morral, Gore, & Schell, 2014) and Westat in the 2015 WGRR. The process involved the following: 1) assigning a base weight based on a selection probability, 2) adjusting for nonresponse which included modeling the characteristics of a respondent to six critical constructs on the survey¹⁴ and using the model-predicted probabilities to adjust weights by balancing the weights associated with the respondents and nonrespondents, and 3) adjusting for raking/ poststratification to known population totals. These forms of weighting produce survey estimates of population totals, proportions, and means (as well as other statistics) that are representative of their respective populations. Unweighted survey data, in contrast, are likely to produce biased estimates of population statistics. The process of weighting for the 2017 WGRR consists of the following steps:

• Adjustment for selection probability. Probability samples, such as the sample for this survey, are selected from lists and each member of the list has a known nonzero probability of selection. For example, if a list contained 10,000 members in a demographic subgroup and the desired sample size for the subgroup was 1,000, one in every tenth member of the list would be selected. During weighting, this selection probability (1/10) is taken into account. The base, or first weight, used to adjust the sample is the reciprocal of the selection probability. In this example, the adjustment for selection probability (base weight) is 10 for members of this subgroup.

¹² See OPA (2017a) for more information on how OPA samples and weights data to construct estimates generalizable to the full force.

¹³ There has been concern that a 20% weighted response rate cannot give accurate results. Ultimately, the accuracy of a survey is most dependent on whether the sample used is randomly drawn and appropriately weighted to be representative of the population it is studying. OPA uses state-of-the-art scientific statistical techniques to draw conclusions from random, representative samples of the active duty population to ensure accuracy of estimations to the full active duty population. As the characteristics of the military population are known, this allows for better accuracy and reduces bias in the estimates compared to civilian populations. Response rates under 25% are common in military surveys. Details on survey methodology are reported in OPA (2016b). The response rate for the 2014 RMWS for active duty was 28.8% and for the 2012 WGRA was 24%.

¹⁴ The six critical constructs on the survey are gender discrimination, sexual quid pro quo, hostile work environment, penetrative sexual assault, non-penetrative sexual assault, and attempted penetrative sexual assault.

- Adjustment for nonresponse. This adjustment develops a model for predicting an outcome to a critical question. OPA used GBM to model the propensity that each sample members experienced the six characteristics (e.g. penetrative sexual assault). For example, a female/E1–E4/USAR/ minority may have a predicted probability of experiencing sexual assault of 4% while a female/E1–E4/USNR/non-minority has a predicted probability of 2%. Next, OPA used GBM to model the response propensity of each member using the six characteristics modeled in step one. Details regarding the criteria used for selecting the best model are found in the 2017 Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Reserve Component Members: Statistical Methods Report (OPA 2017a).
- Adjustment to known population values. After the nonresponse adjustments from step two, weighted estimates will differ from known population totals (e.g., number of members in the USAR). It is standard practice to adjust the weighted estimates to the known population totals to reduce both the variance and bias in survey estimates. Therefore, OPA performed a final weighting adjustment that exactly matches weighted estimates and known population totals for important demographics. Suppose the population for the subgroup was 8,500 men and 1,500 women but the nonresponse-adjusted weighted estimates from the respondents were 7,000 men and 3,000 women. To reduce this possible bias and better align with known population totals, we would adjust the weights by 1.21 for men and 0.5 for women so that the final weights for men and women applied to the survey estimates would be 24.3 and 10, which provide unbiased estimates of the total and of women and men in the subgroup.

The demographic information for the 2017 WGRR is provided in two demographic tables:

- Table 1 (page 12) includes all respondents (both paper-and-pen and web respondents) who completed the short form of the survey (see Figure 3 for details on survey forms), and
- Table 2 (page 13) includes web-only respondents who completed the long form of the survey.

Both tables display the total number and estimated percentage of eligible respondents who completed the survey for each reporting category. Differences in the percentages of respondents and estimated populations for the reporting categories in these tables reflect differences in the number sampled in each group, as well as differences in response rates between modes of administration.

How to Use the Tabulations

Each survey question is presented on each page in the tabulations.¹⁵ Tabulation pages include the question text (or composite measure description, if applicable), subitem text (if applicable), response options, reporting categories, percent responding, estimates for each response option and bar chart (if applicable), and a table note. Each of these elements is shown in Figure 4 and described in detail below.

How to Read a Tabulation Page

- Question Text and Subitem Text: This contains the question text from the survey or composite measure description, if the item was constructed, and the subitem text from the survey.
- 2. Response Options: This contains the response options as presented on the survey. To compress the width of columns in the tables, the response options are shown with a number or letter, which is used as the column heading for the response percentages.
- 3. Reporting Category: This column lists the reporting group for each row (see pages 7–8 for a description of the reporting categories).
- 4. Percent Responding: The proportion of members who answered the question are shown in this column. These are the members represented in the estimates for that reporting group. The means of each item's Percent Responding is described in a table note, described below.
- 5. Response Option Percentages: Estimates are placed into columns that correspond to the response options. For the majority of survey items, these columns contain the percentage of members choosing the response options indicated by the column heading. Within a set of response options, percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding. Where there is a simple binomial response, such as "Yes" and "No," only the "Yes" percentage is presented. In some instances, mean scale scores are presented (for example, Depression score). In some questions respondents were asked to "Mark all that apply" for a list of responses. For example, in Q135 respondents were asked about behaviors experienced in-line with potential professional reprisal from their leadership. Because respondents were able to select more than one option, the tabulations show the percentage who marked each response option, and the sum across the subitems does not equal 100%. Further, if a respondent indicated, "Demoted you or denied you a promotion" and "Denied you an award you were previously eligible to receive," they were counted in the percentage for both options.

- 6. Bar Chart: This displays a bar chart for chosen response options. For binomial responses such as "Yes" and "No," the bar chart represents the "Yes" percentage with the heading "Percentage Reporting Yes." When multi-level response scales can be dichotomized, the bar chart may represent the sum of the percentages in multiple columns. For example, Q52 contains responses of "Yes, they all were," "Yes, some were, but not all," "No, none were military," and "Not sure." The bar chart will display the Percentage Reporting Yes as the collapse of both "Yes" response options. Additionally, for scales with ranges (for example, Q178 contains a scale from "Not at all" to "Very large extent"), the bar charts represents the sum of the percentages for one side of the extent scale ("Large extent" and "Very large extent").
- Table Note: The table note describes the percent responding for the tabulation item. The percent responding is impacted by skip patterns and item nonresponse. Not all questions will apply to every respondent, and where possible, the survey is programmed to skip respondents over questions that are not applicable. For example, Q174a states: My National Guard/Reserve component's sexual assault training explains how sexual assault is a mission readiness problem. This does not apply to those who indicated they had not received any military training on topics related to sexual assault in the past 12 months in Q172. The table note for this question would then indicate, "Percent responding are Reserve component members who answered the question and had training during the past 12 months on topics related to sexual assault (Q172)." OPA does not force respondents to answer each item. Hence we will have item nonresponse. The percent responding may not equal 100%, and therefore the table note indicates, "Percent responding are Reserve component members who answered the question."

Combining Information from Multiple Items

Tabulations in this volume generally present data for individual survey questions. There are two exceptions: results for multiple items presented on a single set of pages and constructed composite measures. Examples for the first exception, where results for multiple items are presented on a single set of pages, are provided below.

- "Mark all that apply" questions: In Q63 (a–t), members who experienced MEO violations and did not discuss/report it, were asked the reasons for not discussing it with someone above them in their chain of command with expectation of action and not reporting it to a person who enforces sexual harassment regulations. Members were presented a list of reasons and asked to "Mark all that apply" as to reasons for not discussing. The tabulations for this question show percentages who Marked Q64 (a–t) on a single set of pages to allow comparison between the percentages. Hence, percentages may not sum to 100%.
- "Yes" or "No" for multiple subitem questions: Some questions with multiple "Yes" or "No" subitems are presented on single set of pages instead of as individual subitems across several pages. In Q157 (a–i), members were asked if they observed a variety of potentially dangerous situations. Members were asked to indicate "Yes" or "No" for each item. The tabulation for this question shows percentages who marked "Yes" to allow comparison between the percentages. Hence, percentages may not sum to 100%.

Constructed Composite Measures. The second exception pertains to constructed composite measures (e.g., scales, indices, and summary variables). Individual items in each measure are presented first, followed by tabulation pages showing composite measure results. Where applicable, Cronbach's coefficient alpha, a measure of scale reliability, is provided for the scale overall and by gender in the table notes. Cronbach's coefficient alpha ranges in values from 0 to 1. Values of 0.70 or greater indicate the scale has high reliability and the items are internally consistent. Composite measures presented in this tabulation volume are described below.

Workplace Hostility: The composite measure includes survey items on the degree to which coworkers or supervisors act in an angry or hostile manner toward them (Q170). Examples include intentionally interfering with other's work performance; taking credit for other's work or ideas; and using insults, sarcasm, or gestures to humiliate others. Response options range from 1 (never) to 5 (very often). Higher scores on this measure indicate members more frequently perceived hostile behaviors in their workplace.

Metrics for Rates¹⁶

Rates reflect whether members indicated experiencing a Military Equal Opportunity (MEO) Violation (sexual harassment [hostile work environment or sexual quid pro quo behaviors] and gender discrimination) and/or sexual assault. The 2017 WGRR rates comprise the percentage of members who indicated experiencing at least one of the behaviors during the 12 months prior to the survey and endorsed follow-up items meeting the criteria for MEO violations and/or sexual assault victimization. For each of these composite measures, the tabulations are presented for each question on the survey individually followed by the overall rate for the composite measure.

MEO Violations. Rates of sex-based MEO violations were derived from items Q9–Q48 and represent a continuum of behaviors including sexual harassment (sexually hostile work environment and sexual quid pro quo) and gender discrimination. The behaviors comprising each of the MEO violations are described below, with details on prevalence rate construction depicted in Figure 5.

- Sexual Harassment (Q9–Q23 and Q26–Q46) includes two behaviors:
 - Sexually Hostile Work Environment (Q9–Q21 and Q26–Q44): Includes unwelcome sexual conduct or comments that interfere with a person's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment, or where the conduct is a condition of a person's job, pay, or career. Additionally, most of the behaviors have to either continue after the offender knew to stop or were so severe that most military members would have found them offensive to meet the legal criteria for inclusion in the rate.¹⁷ See Figure 5 for details.
 - Sexual Quid Pro Quo (Q22–Q23 and Q45–Q46): Includes instances of job benefits or losses conditioned on sexual cooperation.
- Gender Discrimination (Q24–Q25 and Q47–Q48): Includes comments and behaviors directed at someone because of his/her gender and these experiences harmed or limited his/her career.

¹⁶ The treatment of missing answers when coding composite measures of sexual assault and MEO violations aligns with the 2014 RMWS conducted by RAND Corporation. The 2014 RMWS required answers to 50% or more of the items to be included in the composite measures and, if this criteria was met, missing responses were hard coded to "Not Experienced." For example, with the sexual assault measure, if a respondent had three "No" answers and three "Missing" responses across the behavior items, they were coded as "Not experienced" in the final composite.

¹⁷ The behavior "Took or shared sexually suggestive pictures or videos of you when you did not want them to that made you uncomfortable, angry, or upset" only required the legal criteria of being severe enough that most military members would have been offended. The behavior "Intentionally touched you in a sexual way when you did not want them to" did not require any legal criteria follow-up.

Sex-Based MEO Violation Rate Metrics

Sexual Assault. Prevalence rates of sexual assault violations were derived from items Q64–Q84, Q86–Q92, and Q94–Q105 and represent a continuum of sexual assault behaviors prohibited by Article 120 of the UCMJ and the circumstances of those experiences. To be included in the prevalence rate for sexual assault, the respondent must have indicated the sexual assault behaviors were done with the intent to either gratify a sexual desire or to abuse, humiliate, or degrade (exceptions noted in Figure 6),¹⁸ and mechanisms such as force or threats must have been used or, in instances where the assault happened while the victim was unconscious or drugged, the offender behaved fraudulently, or the victim was unable to provide consent. The specific behaviors and intent and consent mechanisms are depicted in Figure 6.

¹⁸ Intent is not required for the behavior "someone put his penis into your anus, mouth, or vagina."

Sexual Assault Prevalence Rate Metrics

If a respondent experienced any sexual assault behavior classified as meeting the legal criteria for a sexual assault, they would only see questions for the remaining sexual assault behaviors—they would not see the follow-up questions on intentions and consent mechanisms for additional behaviors experienced. Additionally, respondents who indicated the incident occurred outside of the past 12 months (Q152, Q154) are coded as "No" for the sexual assault behaviors and prevalence rates and they are excluded from the sexual assault one situation experienced throughout the tabulations (Q108–Q134).

- Sexual Assault prevalence rates are also shown in three hierarchical, mutually-exclusive categories from the items shown in Figure 7:¹⁹
 - Penetrative Sexual Assault includes individuals who indicated Yes to any of the items that assess penetration of the vagina, anus, or mouth (Q64, Q69, and/or Q76), and met the legal criteria for a sexual assault (Q65– Q68, Q70–Q75, and Q77–82, respectively).
 - Non-Penetrative Sexual Assault includes individuals who indicated Yes to either of the items that assess unwanted sexual touching (Q83 and/or Q91), and met the legal criteria for a sexual assault (Q84, Q86–Q90, and Q94–Q98, respectively). Individuals who were previously counted as having experienced penetrative sexual assault are excluded from this rate.

- Attempted Penetrative Sexual Assault includes individuals who indicated Yes to the item that assesses attempted sexual assault (Q199) and met the legal criteria for a sexual assault (Q100–Q105). Individuals who were previously counted as having experienced penetrative sexual assault or non-penetrative sexual assault are excluded from this rate.
- Composite measures of sexual assault. Three additional "roll-up" composite measures are constructed to provide additional rates of sexual assault to include experiences of sexual assault that occurred prior to the past 12 months. Respondents are shown the list of behaviors in-line with sexual assault and if at least one behavior is endorsed, are asked if the behavior(s) occurred before or after joining the military (Q156). These questions do not require the respondent to meet legal criteria for intent and/or consent.
 - Lifetime Sexual Assault Prevalence Rate includes experiences of sexual assault that occurred in the past year as well as those that occurred more than a year ago (Q64–Q84, Q86–Q92, Q94–Q105, Q155a–d, and Q155f).
 - Sexual Assault Prevalence Rate Prior to Joining the Military includes experiences of sexual assault that occurred more than a year ago and before joining the military (Q155a–d, Q155f, and Q156a).
 - Sexual Assault Prevalence Rate Since Joining the Military includes experiences of sexual assault that occurred since joining the military including experiences in the past 12 months (Q64–Q84, Q86–Q92, Q94– Q105, Q155a–d, Q155f, and Q156b).

Hierarchy of Estimated Sexual Assault Prevalence Rates

Retaliation Metrics. Measures of potential professional reprisal, ostracism, and other negative behaviors are used to capture retaliatory behaviors experienced by Reserve component members as a result of experiencing a sexual assault, regardless of reporting, whereas measures of perceived professional reprisal, ostracism, and other negative behaviors are used to capture retaliatory behaviors experienced as a result of reporting a sexual assault. These measures reflect member perceptions and should not be interpreted as meeting the elements of proof for official retaliation. Retaliatory behaviors, as per DoD policy, can only be determined via formal investigation. However, the items used in the 2017 WGRR align with the legal elements of professional reprisal and ostracism in the UCMJ and can provide DoD with estimates of possible prohibited behaviors.

- Perceived Professional Reprisal (Q135–Q137): Under the UCMJ, reprisal is defined as "Taking or threatening to take an adverse personnel action, or withholding or threatening to withhold a favorable personnel action, with respect to a member of the Armed Forces because the member reported a criminal offense." The rate of perceived professional reprisal is a summary measure reflecting whether respondents indicated they experienced unfavorable actions taken by leadership (or an individual with the authority to affect a personnel decision) as a result of reporting a sexual assault (not based on conduct or performance) and met the legal criteria for elements of proof for an investigation to occur. Figure 8 shows the behaviors and two follow up criteria required to be included in the metric.
 - Potential Professional Reprisal (Q135) is a summary measure reflecting whether respondents indicated they experienced unfavorable actions taken by leadership (or an individual with the authority to affect a personnel decision) as a result of experiencing a sexual assault, regardless if they reported. This measure includes only experiencing at least one negative behavior and does not include the follow up criteria included in the rate metric of perceived professional reprisal.

Perceived Professional Reprisal Metrics

- Perceived Ostracism (Q139–Q141): The rate of perceived ostracism is a summary measure reflecting whether, as a result of reporting a sexual assault, respondents indicated experiencing negative behaviors from military peers and/or coworkers to make them feel excluded or ignored and met the legal criteria for elements of proof for an investigation to occur. Figure 9 shows the behaviors and two follow-up criteria required to be included in the metric.
 - Potential Ostracism (Q139) is a summary measure reflecting whether respondents indicated experiencing negative behaviors from military peers and/or coworkers to make them feel excluded or ignored as a result of experiencing a sexual assault, regardless if they reported. This measure includes only experiencing at least one negative behavior and does not include the follow up criteria included in the rate metric of perceived ostracism.

- Perceived Other Negative Behaviors (Q143–Q145): The rate of perceived other negative behaviors is a summary measure reflecting whether, as a result of reporting a sexual assault, respondents indicated experiencing negative behaviors from military peers and/or coworkers that occurred without a valid military purpose, and may include physical or psychological force, threats, or abusive or unjustified treatment that results in physical or mental harm and met the criteria for elements of proof for an investigation to occur. Figure 10 shows the behaviors and two follow-up criteria required to be included in the metric.
 - Potential Other Negative Behaviors (Q143) is a summary measure reflecting whether respondents indicated experiencing negative behaviors from military peers and/or coworkers that occurred without a valid military purpose, and may include physical or psychological force, threats, or abusive or unjustified treatment that results in physical or mental harm, regardless if they reported. This measure includes only experiencing at least one negative behavior and does not include the follow up criteria included in the rate metric of perceived other negative behaviors.

Perceived Other Negative Behaviors Metrics

Experienced at least one behavior from military peers and/or coworkers in line with potential other negative behaviors

Made insulting or disrespectful remarks or made jokes at your expense—to you in private

Showed or threatened to show private images, photos, or videos of you to others

Bullied you or made intimidating remarks about the assault

Was physically violent with you or threatened to be physically violent

Damaged or threatened to damage your property

Belief that at least one individual knew or suspected the respondents made an official report of sexual assault (unrestricted or restricted)

Belief that the action was taken for one of the following reasons:

To discourage you from moving forward with your report or discourage others from reporting

They were trying to abuse or humiliate you because of your report

- Composite Measures of Retaliation: Two additional "roll-up" composite measures are constructed to provide additional rates of perceived retaliatory behaviors.
 - Perceived Ostracism and/or Other Negative Behaviors is an overall measure showing whether members reported experiencing behaviors or actions by military peers and/or coworkers meeting the requirements for inclusion in the estimates of Perceived Ostracism and/or Other Negative Behaviors.
 - Perceived Professional Reprisal, Ostracism, and/or Other Negative Behaviors is an overall measure reflecting whether respondents experienced either Perceived Professional Reprisal, Perceived Ostracism, and/or Perceived Other Negative Behaviors by leadership, other military members, or DoD civilians for reporting a sexual assault.

Margins of Error

The complex sample design in 2017 WGRR required weighting to produce population estimates (e.g., percent female who experienced sexual assault).²⁰ Because of this weighting strategy, conventional formulas for calculating the margin of error will overstate the reliability of the estimate. For this tabulation volume, variance estimates were calculated using SUDAAN® PROC DESCRIPT (Research Triangle Institute, Inc., 2013).

By definition, sample surveys are subject to sampling error from nonresponse. Standard errors are estimates of the variance around population parameters (such as percentages or means) and are used to construct margins of error (i.e., confidence interval half-widths). Estimated percentages and means in these tabulations are reported with margins of error based on 95% confidence intervals. In order to compress the data display, only the maximum margin of error (Max ME) for each reporting category is shown. That is, the tabulation volume shows only the largest margin of error for the percentages or means in each row. For each average shown in these tabulations, its margin of error is also printed. The following reporting conventions are used:

- "o" indicates that no one in any reporting group selected the response option,
- NR indicates the estimate is Not Reportable and is suppressed because of low reliability. Estimates of low reliability are suppressed based on criteria defined in terms of nominal sample size (less than 5), effective sample size (less than 15), or relative standard error (greater than 0.225). An "NR" presentation protects DoD, and the reader, from presenting potentially inaccurate findings due to instability of the specific estimate. The cause of instability is due to high variability (large relative standard error) usually associated with a small number of respondents contributing to the estimate,
- NA indicates the question was Not Applicable because the question did not apply to respondents in the reporting category based on answers to previous questions.
- no Max ME is printed when all percentages in the row are shown as NR,
- no margin of error is printed for an average when it is shown as NR.

Percent responding are Reserve component members who answered the question, indicated experiencing a sex-based MEO violation (Q9–Q48), and did not discuss the situation with a work supervisor/anyone up their chain of command with the expectation of corrective action or officially reported the situation as possible harassment to any person tasked with enforcing sexual harassment or Military Equal Opportunity regulations (Q60c/Q60e). Members were allowed to mark more than one option; therefore, the sum of responses does not equal 100%.

Frequently Asked Questions / How to Contact Us

PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT & INFORMED CONSENT INFORMATION

Your name and contact information have been used only for the distribution of this survey. Your responses to the demographic questions will allow DoD to better analyze all responses among varying demographic groups. Responding to this survey is voluntary. The survey is confidential and your individual responses will not be released to anyone. Therefore, any responses you provide regarding experiences of unwanted gender-related behaviors will not impact your reporting options. Office of People Analytics (OPA) has received a federal "Certificate of Confidentiality" that provides OPA with additional protection against any attempt to subpoen confidential survey records. Most people can complete the survey in 30 minutes. There is no penalty to you if you choose not to respond. However, maximum participation is encouraged so the data will be complete and representative. This survey assesses the respondent's perspective regarding experiences of sexual harassment and sexual assault. Any reference to a perpetrator is not intended to convey guilt or innocence of any person.

HOW TO CONTACT US

10 USC Sections 136, 481, 1782, 2358, 14 USC 1 and Section 570 of the FY13 NDAA, authorize the Department of Defense to conduct this survey. Reports will be provided to the Department of Defense (DoD), each Military Department, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

OPA uses well-established, scientific procedures to randomly select a sample representing the Defense community based on combinations of demographic characteristics (for example, Service and gender).

Identifying information will be used only by government and contractor staff engaged in, and for purposes of, survey research. In no case will individual identifiable survey responses be reported.

The data collection procedures are not expected to involve risk or discomfort to you.

Survey data may be shared with DoD researchers or organizations outside the DoD who are conducting research on DoD personnel. OPA performs a disclosure avoidance analysis to reduce the risk of there being a combination of demographic variables which can single out an individual.

Your responses could be used in future research. Results from these surveys will be posted on the web: https://www.dmdc.osd.mil/appj/dwp/dwp_surveys.jsp

If you answer any items or indicate distress or being upset, etc., you will not be contacted for follow-up purposes. However, if you indicate a direct threat to harm yourself or others within responses or communications about the survey, because of concern for your welfare, OPA may notify an office in your area for appropriate action.

A respondent who experienced sexual harassment or sexual assault may experience discomfort and/or other emotions while completing the survey. Contact information is provided below for those who experience such discomfort.

- If you are a victim of sexual assault, or a person who wishes to prevent or respond to this crime, you may want to contact a Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) or Victim Advocate (VA).

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is Office of People Analytics (OPA)?

 OPA maintains the largest archive of personnel, manpower, training, and financial data in the Department of Defense (DoD). OPA also conducts Joint-Service surveys including the Status of Forces Surveys, QuickCompass Surveys, Health and Resilience Surveys, and Retention and Readiness for the DoD. OPA was formerly a part of Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) but transitioned to its own organization October 2016.

What is the Health & Resilience (H&R) Program?

- Health & Resilience (H&R) is a DoD personnel program that features web-based surveys sponsored by the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD[P&R]).
- These surveys enable DoD to regularly assess the attitudes and opinions of the DoD community, including active duty and Reserve component members on the full range of personnel issues.

How do I know this is an official, approved DoD survey?

 In accordance with DoD Instruction 8910.01, all data collection in DoD must be licensed and show that license as a Report Control Symbol (RCS) with an expiration date. The RCS for this survey is RCS# DD-P&R(QD)1947, expiring 03/22/2021.

How did you pick me?

• OPA uses well-established, scientific procedures to randomly select a sample that represents the Defense community based on combinations of demographic characteristics (e.g., Service and gender).

Why should I participate?

- This is your chance to be heard on issues that directly affect you, including policies and practices regarding general workplace respect issues as well as sexual assault, and other gender-related issues.
- Your responses on this survey make a difference.

What is wgr-survey@mail.mil?

• The official e-mail address for communicating with Reserve component members about Health & Resilience (H&R) surveys. "wgr-survey@mail.mil" is short for Workplace and Gender Relations Survey.

Why am I being asked to use the web?

Web administration enables us to get survey results to senior Defense leaders faster.

Why are you using a .net instead of a .mil domain to field your survey?

The survey is administered by our contractor, Data Recognition Corporation (DRC), an experienced survey operations company. The survey collection tool starts on a .mil site within OPA. Once you enter your ticket number, you are redirected to a contractor site which uses a .net domain. This allows everyone to access the survey, even from a non-government computer.

Do I have to answer all questions?

No, it is not necessary to answer every question. Within the survey screen, you have four control buttons: Next Page (→), Previous Page (←), Clear Responses, and Save and Return Later. Use these buttons to navigate through the survey or skip questions. Use Save and Return Later to give yourself flexibility to complete the survey at a convenient time. When you return to the survey website, enter your Ticket Number to get to the place in the survey where you had stopped.

Why does the survey ask personal questions?

- OPA reports overall results, as well as by other characteristics, such as location, and gender. To complete these analyses, we must ask respondents for these types of demographic information.
- Analyzing results in this way provides Defense leaders information about the attitudes and concerns of all subgroups of personnel so that no groups are overlooked.
- Sometimes sensitive questions are asked in order to improve personnel policies, programs, and practices.

Will my answers be kept private?

- Your response will be kept confidential to the extent permitted by law.
- All data will be reported in the aggregate and no individual data will be reported.
- We encourage you to safeguard your Ticket Number to prevent unauthorized access to your survey. In addition, to ensure your privacy, be aware of the environment in which you take the survey (e.g., take the survey when no one else is home, take care to not leave the survey unattended).
- If you answer any items or indicate distress or being upset, etc., you will not be contacted for follow-up purposes. However, if you indicate a direct threat to harm yourself or others within responses or communications about the survey, because of concern for your welfare, OPA may notify an office in your area for a appropriate action.

Can I withdraw my answers once I have started the survey?

 If you wish to withdraw your answers, please notify the Survey Processing Center prior to October 17, 2017 by sending an e-mail to wgr-survey@mail.mil or calling, toll-free 1-800-881-5307. Include your name and Ticket Number.

Will I ever see the results of the survey?

• OPA posts survey results on the following website:

http://www.dmdc.osd.mil/surveys/
